Harriet Tubman Wright – author of Releasing Stress Creating Serenity -- has empowered thousands of mature spiritual women to express their creative essence and leadership capacity since 1971. As a result, they experience more joy, balance, and success as entrepreneurs and executives and help transform businesses, organizations, and communities to heal our world. Those who are stressed and frustrated doing unfulfilling work learn to express their true essence and share their soul-aligned gifts to live healthy and prosperous lives on purpose-- doing what they most love to serve others. With two master's degrees and a lifetime committed to mastery and service, Harriet brings elder wisdom and spiritual empowerment that shifts perspectives and changes lives.

Harriet's creative mastery and keen storytelling make her an inspirational guest for hosts and their listeners!
